JOSHUA SKENES
Executive Chef/Co-Owner

In just a few years, Joshua Skenes has propelled Saison from a pop-up in a Mission District alley in San Francisco to a name with international resonance. A leader in the industry, Skenes continues to push the boundaries of American cuisine while utilizing the abundant natural resources of Northern California. Along with fire cooking, methods of preservation and an ethos that blends ancient and modern knowledge, he and his team are creating a unique cuisine and dining experience specific to the area.

Skenes has received a host of accolades including Food & Wine's "Best New Chef", San Francisco Magazine's "Best Chef", and named one of Elite Traveler Magazine's "15 Most Influential Chefs of the Next Decade." Saison has a three-star rating from the Michelin Guide and a four-star rating from the San Francisco Chronicle. Saison is a distinguished member of Relais&Chateaux and is the only restaurant in California to place at the World's 50 Best Awards in 2016 and 2017.
